The Paramount Interests of This City We hold that the people of the city of Wheeling and of the Upper Ohio Valley in common with the people of the whole country, have no true interests to be served by falling in with the crazy demand our times for an irredeemable paper currency. On the contrary, we hold that this crazy furor is directly in the face and enormous amount of $70,896,713 of wool, whereas for the fiscal year ending the 30th of June last, we only imported $33,-087,062, a decrease of over one half, or $37, Now we can attribute this falling off in importations of foreign wool to the same cause that has so materially affected all of our importations, viz: produce and sell goods in this country at a price that rendered foreign importaour currency. A poor currency, that is a curency that is inferior to the money of other the hand-shaking disease countries, means that we must pay higher sound currency means that our money

And as it was with wool so it it was with iron. In 1873 we imported into this country $44,680,480 worth of iron, whereas during last year we imported only $3,802,084, a decrease of $40,585,356, or a falling of off over twelve hundred per cent. In other words, the American people now possess their own home market for iron and iron fabries, whereas Great Britain and other nations used to possess it, and this, too, notwithstanding the fact that the tariff on iron has been reduced.

In like manner the importations of steel have been reduced.

In like manner the importations of steel have been reduced.

In like manner the importations of steel have been reduced.

In like manner the importations of steel have been reduced.

And so it has been in a great variety of articles. On all hands we see a great decline in the importations of nearly every article that we produce in this country. And this we owe in no small part to our increased ability to compete with foreign nations through the increased value of our currency.

Here's a chance for some of the young "Whenever any disreputable woman," the folks who delight in riding to show what that they have long Richiv deserved. "Whenever any disreputable woman," the Tribuse continues, "chooses to start a dirty story about herself and some conspicuous public man, she at once counts that practically one-half the press of the country will act as her allies and efficient agents in promoting her blackmailing scheme." This assumption being correct, she goes to her victim and threatens publicity unless she is paid to keep still, and ten to one the victim will "come down," whether innocent or guilty, so that the threat of exposure is equally potent for her nefarious purpose. And it is a shame to say it, but it is true, nevertheless, that there is a large element among the respectable portion of the community that innocently aids and abots this class of blackmailers, to-wit, those people who jump at the conclusion that any charge against a man's virtue is true, or that "There must be something in it," without waiting for the conclusion that any charge against a man's virtue is true, or that "There must be something in it," without waiting for the conclusion that any charge against a man's virtue is true, or that "There must be something in it," without waiting for the conclusion that any charge against a man's virtue is true, or that "There must be something in it," without waiting for the conclusion that any charge against a man's virtue is true, or that "There must be something in it," without waiting for the conclusion that any charge against a man's virtue is true, or that "There must be something in it," without waiting for the conclusion that any charge against a man's virtue is true, or that "There must be something in it," without waiting for the conclusion that any charge against a man's virtue is true, or that "There must be something in it," without waiting for the conclusion that any charge against a man's virtue is true, or that "There must be something in it," without waiting for the conclusion at Memphis vesterday, with a letter on behalf of the citizens of Wellsburg to distribute to the need

Under the above caption your c ondent "X" has some remarks which are ot entirely just.

Because the meeting of the Association vas not so fine and enthusiastic as he had expected, he proceeds straight way to lay the blame on the teachers and citizens o Parkersburg. Had he sought very industriously for the facts, he could have given somewhat juster and exacter explana-

Although I have not attended many of its meetings, the Association, I understand, has not been a very strong or vital organization for several years past. The ames of many of the best and most inluential teachers in the State, are, I beleve, not even on its roll of members.

Besides this, the Executive Committee did not conclude their arrangements for the Parkersburg meeting until a short time pointed for the meeting but that was all.
Many inquiries were made of us by letter and otherwise, which we were unable to answer. Ex-Gov. Stevenson, through his paper, County Superintendent Stapleton, the publisher of the Educational Monthly, and myself, all urged greater promptness, before it was held. We knew the time apand myself, all urged greater promptness,

It does not become me to say much of our city schools, but I feel sure I speak modestly when I say they were never so well equipped and never in such good into actual practice. Without exaggration, such an occurrence would be an awful calamity, from which we may well pray the good Lord to deliver us. Look at the matter.

One of the great interests of this region is wool. During the flush days succeeding the war, when woolen goods were higher, a vast amount of wool was imported into this country, but owing to the fact that goods have been steadily produced cheaper and sold cheaper since the panic, the importations of wool have steadily declined. For instance, in 1873, the year of the panic, we imported into this country the enormous amount of $70,896,713 of wool, THE PARKERSBURG SCHOOLS.

MANUFACTURING NOTES

The Benwood Furnace at Martin's Ferry about ready to start up again. It has white or colored. Good references requested banked up for some time. The Belfont Furnace, Ironton, Ohio, will esume her blast on the 1st of October.

Wrought iron pitmans, instead of woodin ones, are getting to be common on The rolling mill, nail works, car works

Chess, Smythe & Co., of Pittsburgh, are running their mill full turn in all departents. The men have "doubled up" at the furnaces, thus dividing their work.

Brown, Bonnell & Co.'s new mill, coungstown, O., which has been idle for we months, started up double turn in all epartments last week. The prevalence of the yellow fever in the South will operate rather severely with some of Philadelphia's merchants and manufacturers. Already a number of or-ders for machinery from Philadelphia firms have been countermanded.

The sheet fron trade in 'Philadelphia shows signs of decided improvement, and the manufacturers are so encouraged by the "outlook" that they have advanced prices. Many of the mills engaged in this line have orders ahead that will run them and myself, all urged greater promptness, and asked for exacter information, but without success. Under these circumstances, it is not very strange if the meeting of our organization certainly not made illustrious by previous successes, did not excite the attention of the people of our city and county.

As regards our city teachers, I wish to say that after the first day at least three-fourths of them were in attendance on the meetings of the Association. The remainder, with possibly one or two exceptions, were absent on vacation excursions. As to your correspondents ungraceful allusion to the "cause of education" in Parkersburg a sentence or two in reply must answer.

The Sharon, Pa, Herald says there is some talk of the Middlesex mill going on in a few weeks, and that at Hubbard, Ohio, the guide mill is being ran by J. Hall & Son. At the Westerman Iron Works, Sharon, the puddle, guide and hoop mills are running double turn; bar mill, one-quarter over time; nail factory and plate mill on. Everything in motion; we'll say nothing about prospects. No. 2 blist furnace still doing well; brick and material ordered for No. 1; chain factory working fifteen fires.

The American Manufacturer says of the

The American Manufacturer says of the seven blast furnaces in New Castle, Pa.: "Only one is in blast, the No. 2 of the Ætin the three rolling mills there. Through out the West the condition of the furnac and rolling mills is not much better. This is the natural result of selling products a less than cost of manufacture, and a crisis usiness for the past few years. This cut ting of prices, until sales were made regu-larly at less than cost, has been in the face of a regular and healthy increase in the consumption of iron and steel (with one exception, viz, 1873,) and a regular increase of the various products of our mills."

When We Demoralize the Stomach By excesses or imprudence in eating, we can not hope to escape the consequences for an great length of time. The most robust dige than must succumb to abuses of that importar function. But supposing that we have bee foolish enough to enfectble the stomach, is the timetor. But appears to the common to the damage irreparable? By no means. The dyspeptle has only to do two things to insure his ultimate recovery. First, he should adopt an easily digestible diet. Second, he should use with regularity and persistence Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the leading gastric invigorant, of the age. The multiform symptoms of dyspepsia, and the almost invariably attendant disorders, billoueness and constipation, will assuredly cease to persecute the sufferer if the above advice is attended to. Who that has suffered the tornents that chronic indigestion indicts will neglect to take advantage of a remedy which, if the most positive evidence of the medical profession and the public is to be received with due credence, is an absolute specific for the complaint.
